Anita Nelson Joins Ixonía Bank As
New Assistant Vice President of Residential Lending

Ixonía – December 2018: Ixonía Bank is happy to share that Anita Nelson recently has joined the Bank as its new Assistant Vice President – Residential Lending (NMLS# 1070712). In this role, Anita will assist customers with a variety of home loans including: mortgages, home equity loans, and some consumer loans.

“We are thrilled to have Anita join Ixonía Bank and add her experience and leadership to our team,” states Dan Westrope, Chairman & CEO of Ixonía Bank. “She is quickly making herself known for the superior level of service she provides to her clients in helping them achieve their goals in homeownership.”

Anita has been working in the banking industry for the past 22 years and has a strong background in retail banking management and residential lending. Anita comes to Ixonía Bank from a community bank in Washington County where she has most recently been overseeing the business operations of two branch locations and had also been serving as a lender. Anita is very community-focused and has a strong background in civic activities and leadership. She is currently serving as a Co-Chair of the Bank’s Women in Business Initiative Team which is focused on supporting women business owners and leaders in professional and personal growth.

“It was clear from the beginning that Ixonía Bank was the right team for me to join because we are both passionate about being actively involved and investing back into our local communities,” states Anita. “Additionally, I am excited about the opportunity to offer personalized loan guidance by assisting my clients in choosing the best home or construction loan for their personal situation.”

Anita currently resides in Fort Atkinson with her husband Chris and three children. While she dedicates a lot of time to helping others achieve homeownership success, she still finds time to enjoy: kayaking, golfing, traveling and cheering for the local sports teams.

Anita is based out of the Bank’s Watertown East office located at 109 Oakridge Court, Watertown, Wisconsin.
